

Cross Roads Community Production of
GOD SPELL

Musical Contract

This form MUST be turned in at the time of your audition

Being a part of a cast for a musical is a time-consuming commitment. There are months of rehearsal for acting, singing, and dance. There are hours spent learning lines, blocking, and working scenes to get them familiar and comfortable. There are uncounted months of planning outside the rehearsal time that go into making each year's final product a success. And there are clear reasons for this commitment.

First, we commit ourselves because of our love of the art form. We put in this time because of how being a part of a musical makes us feel, and helps us to make others feel.

We also commit for our love of our community. We desire to build a sense of community, pride and tradition... and create a culture of excellence in the fine arts, which transcends formal recognition and awards.

We finally commit ourselves to the endeavor because of each other and ourselves. At the end of the day, at the end of the production, we should know that we have worked as hard as every other person in the cast. We have given our all, and for that we should be extremely proud, no matter that any one else has to say.

For all of these reasons, it is important that we remember our responsibility, and the seriousness of the fun we have in creating a musical. True success can only come is we are all equally committed to the best possible execution of the show.
